

Introduction

We would like to invite local employers to our school to engage with our students and help us to deliver worthwhile, relevant experiences involving careers education and help promote work readiness.

Our students and teachers really appreciate learning first-hand about the skills and attributes that employers value and the attributes used in the world of work. We will be very grateful of any time you can give. These opportunities may also be recognised as an effective experience to extend employees skills and professional development.

Please consider the following volunteer opportunities:

- Events – whole day or half day involving students Year 7 - 13
- Assembly and careers information talks to students – lasting 10 minutes to an hour
- Work experience – offering placements to Year 11 and 6th form students
- Curriculum support - helping teachers link their subject to the world of work in lessons

If you are interested

Fiona Came: f.came@littleover.derby.sch.uk

The opportunities available are extensive and may appear to be overwhelming in sheer quantity.

Please be reassured that a volunteer is equally valuable to us whether it be one item you commit to or five! We recognise that you are already very busy people and we are very grateful for any time you volunteer to help our students.

If you are an ex-student of our school and you are not yet signed up to our Alumni, please consider becoming part of this group so we can keep in touch.

Assembly and careers information talks to students

General information:

Assemblies for Year 7 to 11 have a running time of approximately 15 minutes starting at 2pm. You need to have some 'stage presence' as the visitor would need to capture the attention of the whole year group – 300 students looking up at you whilst you are at the front. There are audio and visual facilities available.

Assemblies for Year 12 and 13 have a running time of up to one hour starting at 2.15pm.

Careers talks have a running time of approximately 45 minutes starting at 1.10pm. The content of talks can have a 'wide brief'; they could be promoting any job or industry sector, they could be from providers giving information about options pathways at transition points at 14 years, post 16 or post 18.

Dates for delivery

Opportunities for assemblies are required to link with the set school programme. Dates for careers talks have greater flexibility. In both cases there is a list of dates for the academic year for volunteers to 'sign up' to.

Contact the Careers Lead, Fiona Came.

Employers who can be involved in lessons, supporting our teachers and helping them make clear connections to the attitudes and capabilities sought by employers. It is also an opportunity to increase students' knowledge of what careers are 'out there'.
